

Friends,

I want you to be the first to know: I'm running for Congress.

I have never shied away from an opportunity to uplift our community and make it possible for all Oregonians to get ahead.

As a legislator, a mother of four, and a small business owner, I know what we need now is courageous leadership to fight for our values – no matter who tries to stand in the way.

I am proud to have earned a reputation as a tireless champion for real progress. In the state legislature, I've fought to safeguard reproductive freedom and our civil rights, create affordable housing, lower the cost of healthcare and prescription drugs, and create pathways to success for the next generation so everyone has a fair shot.

I'm running for Congress in Oregon's 5th District to bring that same fearless dedication to hard work and real results to D.C.

The first 24 hours of any campaign are crucial. My team says we need to raise $20,000 by the end of the day. Will you contribute $10, or whatever you can, right now to ensure that we have the power to flip this seat blue?
